FlightSafety International, the world's leading professional aviation training company, delivers more than one million hours of simulator-based training a year to business, commercial and military aviation organisations worldwide for fixed-wing, rotor and tiltrotor aircraft. The company provides factory-authorised pilot and maintenance technician training for nearly every business aircraft in use today, mission-specific training for helicopter pilots and crews, commercial and corporate flight attendant training and flight dispatch training. FlightSafety operates the world's largest fleet of full flight simulators – the majority qualify as Level D and are certified by the relevant national authorities. The company designs, manufactures and supports the world's most sophisticated simulators, training devices and visual systems, with the most advanced features, for all types of aircraft, including rotorcraft.

Check out the FlightSafety Advantage – enhancing safety with superior training in the areas that matter most: training quality, value, customer service and technology. Contact Scott Fera, Vice President Marketing, 718.565.4774. Email: sales@flightsafety.com.
