FTE Jerez
Flight Training Europe

PROFILE

Set within the boundary of Jerez International Airport and purpose built for flight training in a typically Spanish Mediterranean style, Flight Training Europe has set the benchmark for pilot training for the UK and European market. Incorporating all aspects of training and accommodation on the one campus ensures our students remain focused on achieving the best results possible and helping you to gain the best possible advantage in gaining employment as an airline pilot.

Whether it is conducting tailored courses for airlines or personalised self sponsored training, the Flight Training Europe campus is ideally suited to deliver quality pilot training in a truly focused aviation environment. You will find within our website all the information you need to answer any questions you have regarding flight training. However we would welcome you to talk personally with us at any time or visit us to our first class facilities first hand.

FTE Jerez will introduce its new Mechtronix Boeing 737-800 FSTD for MCC, JOC and specialist training including MPL in 2009.
